Evangelist Preaches First of His "Keynote Sermons" in Baltimore Campaign.

BALTIMORE, March 14.—Billy Sunday will preach this afternoon at the taberon "Personal Work."

This is one of his "keynote sermons," in which he urges ministers, church workers, and all who are aiding him in his campaign to "get out and root" for He has not announced his night sub-

At noon today a meeting will be held on the sixteenth floor of the Casualty building to organize the business men's prayer meetings. These will be held daily in the downtown section at noon. Reports from last Sunday's collections show a total of $3,785.96 for the day. The total amount raised in the ampaign so far to defray the advance sepenses of building the tabernacie and other costs of the campaign is $18,584.42.

other costs of the campaign is $18,584.42.

Luncheon meetings for women will be resumed today. These are being held in the downtown section daily from 11 to 2 o'clock.

Yesterday was "rest day" for the Sunday party. Mr. and Mrs. Sunday toured official Baltimore in the morning, were guests of Capt. and Mrs. John Ridgely at luncheon at Hampton, and in the afternoon Mrs. Sunday left for Philadelphia and Winona Lake. She will return the latter part of this week.

Congressman Greene Makes Plea Before Society For America First.

Newly made Americans, who come t this country to find relief from undestrable political or economic conditions at home, must throw their whole alat home, must throw their whole allegiance to the side of America, Congressman Greene declared in an address last night before the annual meeting of the Vermont Society.

The speaker called up the spirit of '76 as an instance when "America trat" was in reality the slogan for the colonists. He also contrasted the hardships they endured with the pampered life of the society man and woman of today.

pered life of the society man and woman of today.

George R. Wales was elected president of the society. Other officers chosen were Charles H. Brook, George C. Knapp, and Mrs. Irving Woodruft, vice presidents; Mrs. Grace E. ## OHIOANS CAPITULATE TO BALLET RUSSE

Great Audience Greets It Enthusiastically At Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, March 14.-Beof the most distinguished and fashionable assemblages of the city's social and art and musical life, the De Diaghileffe Hallet Russe opened a brief engagement here tonight at the Music Hall under Metropolitan at the Music Hall under Metropolitan Opera Company direction.

The big building was crowded to the doors and the reception given the dancers was enthusiastic and cordial. The big Symphony Orchestra of eighty, carried by the company, and conducted by Ernest Ansermet, the Ballet Russe director, also came in for a great share of the applause as did Frederic Fradkin, the violin soloist.

GET OUT AND ROOT Capital Man Battles ARMY LEAGUE URGES FOR TRAIL HITTERS For British in France ACTION ON DEFENSE

SUNDAY'S PLEA Edward H. Fellows Captain of English Cavalry on Battle-English Cavalry on Battlefront in Flanders.

> From a prominent figure in Washington society to a hard-working captain of English cavalry at the battle front in Flanders-such is the transition through which Edward H. Fellows, former master of the hounds of the Wash-ington Riding and Hunt Clb, has passed since leaving here in May, 1914. An nouncement of this and news that Captain Fellows is alive and well are contained in a letter just received here. Entertained Here. Mrs. Fellows augmented by her charm and grace the popularity won by her dashing husband, and the coupl soon became a Washington institution, being hosts at numerous delightful entertainments at which the "horsey" contingent assembled at their apartments in the Highlands, and guests at almost every affair of note on the city's social calendar. Mrs. Fellows was an American girl, Miss Bessie Tucker, of Raleigh, N. C.

But the carefree life which they had both set out to live in the Capital was "too ideal to Jast long," to use the words of one of their friends.

The couple was obliged to leave Washington to go to England to settle an estate left to Mr. Fellows by the will of an uncle. They were in England when the war started, and during the winter of 1914 placed their country place, Charlton Manor, North Pewsey, Wiltshire, at the disposal of the Canadian regiments. soon became a Washington Institution, BODY OF H. Passes Resolutions for Quick Consideration of Chamberlain Bill.

The Senate and House of Representaitves are urged to drop consideration of all other matters and pass the Cham-berlain bill for the increase of the regdlar army at once in a resolution adopted by the executive council of the Army League.

The recessities of the present situation in Mexico make it imperative that the members of Congress should give immediate attention to the army affairs, the resolution states.

The Chamberlain bill provides for the organization of the regular army on a basis of 178,000 men on a peace footing and 28,000 on a war footing.

Bix months will be required for the organization and equipment of the additional regiments authorized, the council states in its resolution.

The Chamberlain bill incorporates all the important features of the general staff plan for the increase of the general staff plan for the increase of the phelieve the army in its present form probably could handle the actual warfare in Mexico, but the situation of the country generally presents a problem that has many more important angles.
